

Fantasy Depth & Points by Team

After Week 2 | 2026 | Half-PPR

Points and NFL positional ranks are calculated from nflverse regular-season player statistics, captured September 22 at 18:59 UTC. The source covers all 32 games in Weeks 1-2, including Monday night. Half-PPR = nflverse standard fantasy points plus 0.5 per reception. Your league scoring may differ.

W1 / W2 show points in each NFL schedule week. Season points sums recorded Weeks 1-2. n.a. means no player statistics row or no supported rank; it does not mean zero points, undrafted or healthy. A recorded 0.00 is distinct from missing statistics. Values show two decimals; ranks use unrounded totals.

NFL Rank compares all nflverse scorers at the same position, including players outside this 384-player selection. Fullbacks count with running backs; two-way player Travis Hunter counts at WR for fantasy comparisons. Equal totals share a rank, and the next rank skips the tied places. Players with no recorded rows have no rank.

ADP Pick = overall ordinal rank in the MyFootballToolbox 2026 draft baseline (1-1,036), not a measured average selection or NFL draft slot. Draft Position = positional rank in the same baseline; WR#19 means the 19th receiver. The baseline applies to all scoring formats.

Position Gain = Draft Position number minus NFL Rank number. Positive means ahead of the draft baseline. Depth groups a team's players by position and orders them by MyFootballToolbox ADP, with unranked players last. It is a fantasy comparison order, not an official starting lineup.

Coverage: MyFootballToolbox selection of 384 QB/RB/WR/TE players across 32 teams. Team groupings are the saved selection and are not a live roster feed. Kickers and team defenses are excluded. 382 players match the adopted baseline; J'Mari Taylor and Roman Hemby have no matched ADP.

Baseline: MyFootballToolbox 2026 ADP - Cleaned workbook and its frozen database. Adopted September 22, 2026; original provider and capture date are unknown. Adoption does not establish preseason capture. No current injury status is inferred from draft-sheet markers.

Availability and current injury designations are not provided by this statistical snapshot. Check your league player pool, the MyFootballToolbox weekly Waiver Wire report and injury reports before claiming a player.
